■ ZIONIST VISIONARY Theodor Herzl died on July 3, 1904, so it is appropriate to have a discussion on Herzl and Zionism on a date close to the anniversary of his passing. On Wednesday, July 6, the Tel Aviv International Salon will bring together two writers who have written extensively about Herzl and Zionism. One is historian Michael Oren, who is also a former deputy prime minister and MK, as well as a former ambassador to the United States, and the other is Gol Kalev who recently launched his book Judaism 3.0.

The event, in English, will be held at 7.30 p.m. at Social Space in Kikar Atarim near the corner of Nordau, 165 Hayarkon Street, Tel Aviv. The event, which includes a Q&A session with the audience, is free of charge but is limited to young professionals in their 20s and 30s.

Registration is required at <https://ZionismSalon.eventbrite.com>
